About

ANITA LE GRELLE

"I have five children. When my last child left home a few years ago to study in England, I suddenly had heaps of time, and for the first time I could focus entirely on my work." The energetic Anita Le Grelle spends up to twelve hours a day in her studio. There, she translates her immense creativity into, among other things, her Terres de rêves line for Serax. In natural shades that reference the earth, sky, and ocean, she continues to expand her dream world. Starting from something that she lacks, or as a creative protest against everyday objects that she simply does not find sufficiently attractive or useful, Anita Le Grelle brings ceramics to life. The refined appearance and the different layers of glaze characterise the entire line.

TERRES DE RÊVES

How does a Babylonian tower of clay become a successful tableware line? By sheer coincidence, according to Anita Le Grelle. One day in 2013, she decided to dismantle one of her old artworks and reuse the clay to make a mould in the shape of a small bowl. The bowl became a plate, which would then become a platter and before she knew it, Terres de Rêves was a successful line of tableware. The work of the Antwerp designer and sculptress is characterised by in-depth detail, by a wide range of imperfections and peculiarities which in turn flow into a new, fragile form of perfection. A proven perfection, because with the huge success of the previously designed objects in this collection, and the popular demand for other sizes, extending the range could not be far off. With her usual finesse, Anita went to work to treat foodies and connoisseurs once again to a series of new, eye-catching stoneware bowls, plates and platters in different shades of blue, grey and rust.

Terres de Rêves - Tableware

Terres de rêves, the dream world of Anita Le Grelle. What once started with a few ceramic plates and bowls has grown into an extensive collection of cups, mugs, plates, bowls and dishes in a variety of shapes, sizes and colours. The imperfections in the multiple glazes of the square, rectangular, oval, and round objects contribute to their 'earthly' beauty. The colours reverberate the mountain landscapes, seas, caves, and icebergs of Anita Le Grelle's dream landscape.

– Anita Le Grelle

fragile form of perfection.

Terres de Rêves - Glassware

As a visual protest against traditional jugs and carafes, which, according to Anita Le Grelle, are often dull and far too straight, the quirky designer created a series of jugs that were all made 'crooked' on purpose. Some can even be placed on the table in a tilted position. Their special forms, however, not only make them more convenient, they are also eyecatchers on any table.

Terres de Rêves - Kitchen & Table Accessories

Anita Le Grelle: "When you rinse strawberries, cherries, or other fruit, there is always a little water left on the bottom of your bowl. This does not benefit the fruit ... With the Terres de rêves colanders that has become a thing of the past." The soft white, light blue and light pink glazing of the ceramic colanders create a summer atmosphere. The accompanying dish that collects the excess water makes each model suitable to use both in the kitchen and at the table.

Terres de Rêves - Interior Accessories

During her six years of training at the art academy, Anita Le Grelle already knew that one day she would translate the canvases of her favourite artists into functional or ornamental objects. And she did, with an eclectic collection of vases in the characteristic blue, rust, and grey colours of her Terres de rêves line. With their spherical or cylindrical shapes, and irregular designs composed of different layers of clay and glaze or organic forms, they unmistakably portray the designer's signature style. The Terres de rêves vases come in different sizes, and no matter if they stand alone or in group, with or without a bouquet of flowers, they will always attract attention. After the vases the Terres de rêves collection was expanded with the 4 elegant pots with lid you can go in all directions.

Terres de Rêves - Lighting

When setting up her second studio in Brussels, Anita decided not to use a boring spot-lamp above her desk. Instead, she took a random collection of bowls and pots from her Terres de rêves tableware collection for Serax, punched holes in them, stacked them, and added a lamp. An original pendant was born.

Louis and Jack - Two wall lamps, Louis and Jack, join the collection in 2021. Named after her twin sons, these ceramic wall lamps add a warm indirect light to a space.

RUR:AL

ANITA LE GRELLE FOR SERAX

I LIKE
INSPIRATION

RUR:AL

With RUR:AL, ceramicist and sculptor Anita Le Grelle pays tribute to the great outdoors. RUR:AL refers to the rural, organic nature of the tableware, but it also carries the initials of its designer. In addition to the tableware, Le Grelle also created three vases within this collection. "The shape of the vases reminds me of that of tree trunks set in motion by nature. Never perfectly round, nor rectangular." That same raw character can be found in the finish of the tableware, which was not glazed on the outside. "I like to draw inspiration from nature, both as a ceramicist but also as a sculptor," explains Le Grelle, which could also count on nature for the special colour of this collection. "I call it 'duck green'," a green tint that also contains a lot of blue, just like the tail of a duck." RUR:AL denotes both "rural" and the initials A.L. from its designer. It's not a snapshot, nor a quick snack. "This is a new path that I'm taking and with which I want to experiment much further for the next few years." It is no doubt to be continued.

RUR:AL - Tableware

As the name suggests, the designer Anita Le Grelle is trending more and more towards the great outdoors with her new collection. Rural, organic shapes and materials provide her with an endless source of inspiration. "RUR:AL is rougher than my previous work; the tableware has not been enamelled on the outside, giving it a texture much closer to that of trees or from the earth," says Le Grelle. Aside from the three forms of organically shaped plates, within RUR:AL, Le Grelle also made cups, a butter dish, and a serving plate.
